

SPHL Booster Club Regulations

Booster Clubs are an extension of the member team. They cannot pay or provide players additional compensation beyond what is permitted according to their Standard Player Contract and SPHL Rules, Regulations, and Bylaws. Payments or compensation by a booster club or its members are considered a salary cap violation, which may violate the player's immigration status, and the team shall be subject to penalties as provided under SPHL rules. In addition, depending on the severity of the infraction, the SPHL may require the disbandment of a team's booster club as part of the disciplinary action.

The Booster Club may present gifts or de minimus rewards to players for certain honors if pre-approved by the SPHL office.

If the member team provides the items used by the Booster Club to generate revenue, this revenue may not be distributed back to the team's players.

Member teams cannot make cash donations, or other gifts in kind to the Booster Club, that are subsequently distributed to the players.

Before the start of each season, each Booster Club must submit a detailed list of all planned cash or cash equivalent gifts to be given to SPHL players during the upcoming season.
